Timeline of My Day

7.45am

Wake up India (she's become very lazy since becoming nine!)

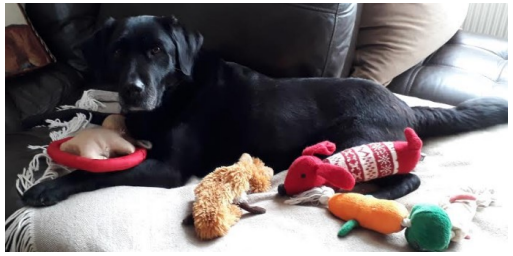
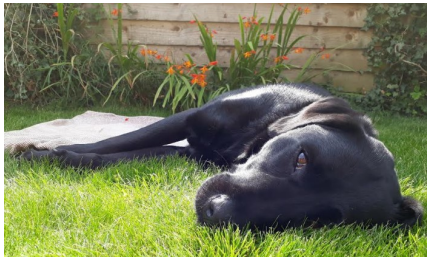
8.00am



Eat a nutritious breakfast of poached eggs on toast, followed by a pink grapefruit and a banana—yummy! While I eat, Indy likes to bring a variety of toys up onto the sofa to encourage me to play with her!

8.45am



Go into the garden for a while to read our favourite book all about dragons. Indy and I LOVE reading!

9.30am

Go to the field to check on Kenzy and Tango and give them their breakfast.

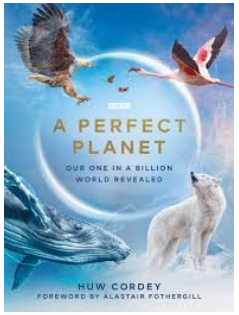
11.00am

John, Tango, India and I take our daily exercise together and go on a lovely long walk in the countryside.

7.15pm

Cook and eat a tasty tea of spicy chicken, roast potatoes and vegetables and then a lemon love cake pudding (unfortunately, it wasn't as good as Mrs Tomaski's though!)

8.00pm



Watch an episode of BBC's A Perfect Planet narrated by the amazing Sir David Attenborough.

10.30pm

Time to get snuggled up in my cosy bed!

Timeline Comprehension Questions

1. What did I do at 7.45am?

_____

2. What does nutritious mean?

_____

3. Why do you think it is important to read regularly?

_____

4. What time did I go to see the horses?

_____

5. Oops, I've forgotten my commas! Can you rewrite this sentence correctly?

John and Tango and India and I went on a walk together.

_____

6. Why was I disappointed with my pudding?

_____

7. Who narrates A Perfect Planet?

_____