How can I use this with my children?

These worksheets come in three different difficulty levels, so you should find something to match your child's needs. Can your children use adventurous adjectives to improve the example sentences?

How does this help my children's learning?

Adjectives are describing words. They add extra information to sentences, giving the reader a more detailed image. By practising using a wide range of adjectives, your child's vocabulary will grow.

Ideas for further learning:

Once your child has finished the sheets and used adventurous adjectives in the sentences, they could try improving them further by adding adverbs (words that describe how, when or where) too.
